AspirinWorks® Test Now Available Directly To Consumers

HealthCheckUSA to provide nationwide access

DENVER, Colo. — August 29, 2007 — Corgenix Medical Corporation (OTC BB: CONX), worldwide developer and marketer of diagnostic test kits, has entered into an exclusive partnership with HealthcheckUSA.com to provide consumers direct access to the state-of-the-art AspirinWorks® Test through HealthcheckUSA's network of over 3000 patient service centers nationwide at a consumer-friendly price.

Medical studies have shown that aspirin does not have the same effect on everyone; some people may not benefit from their aspirin therapy. The AspirinWorks® Test can determine if aspirin is working to suppress the production of thromboxane, the chemical that causes the platelets to become sticky, indicating whether aspirin is eliciting an effect.

Douglass T. Simpson, Corgenix President and Chief Executive Officer said, "The collaboration with HealthCheckUSA and the availability of the AspirinWorks® test through their extensive network of locations are important steps to making the test accessible to the general public. HealthCheckUSA's focus on providing direct-to-consumer testing expands our distribution network beyond the traditional clinical laboratory setting. People are more interested in taking charge of their own health; HealthCheckUSA makes this possible by offering valuable tools, such as the AspirinWorks® test."

According to Holt Vaughan, President of HealthCheckUSA.com, "The company is delighted to be one of the first to offer the AspirinWorks® test directly to consumers. We have researched the AspirinWorks® test and think it is a major breakthrough," Vaughan said. "With so many people in this day and age taking aspirin, we believe it is imperative that people understand aspirin does not have the same effect on everyone."

To request an AspirinWorks® test without a physician referral, consumers can log onto www.HealthCheckUSA.com or call toll free 1 (800) 929-2044. HealthCheckUSA.com forwards the customer the appropriate paperwork, which they can take to the HealthCheckUSA affiliated lab of choice without an appointment. A urine sample is collected and tested. Confidential results are available on the HealthCheckUSA.com Web site within days. For more information about the AspirinWorks® Test, visit HealthCheckUSA.com or www.aspirinworks.com.
